ATTENTION FARMERS AND GINNERS

It has come to my attention, that a very grave condition exists in this County, and for the next three weeks or month, will continue to increase, unless halted at once; and I am making this appeal for your cooperation to stamp out this threatening catastrophe.

Pink Boll Worm cotton is being hauled into some parts of this County and ginned without the knowledge of the ginner of this County. This is due partly to the heavy production in certain South Plains counties.

This practice will infest our own cotton crops in the future and will very shortly cause this County to be included in the State and Federal Quarantine area, which now borders on the West line of the following counties: Hale, Lubbock, Lynn, Borden and Mitchell.

This worm can survive from year to year in the lint, on the seed, but the Federal Agriculture Department's early Fall investigation showed Jones County to be free from Pink Boll Worm.

To bring such cotton into this County from an infested and Quarantined area is a violation of our Penal Laws and any person caught doing this will be vigorously prosecuted and, I make an earnest appeal to you farmers and ginner, to help me learn the persons doing such acts and by working together, we can control infestation to a certain degree.—GILBERT SMITH, County Attorney.

LIONS CLUB AND P. T. A.

EXPRESS THANKS

The Lion's Club, the Elementary P. T. A. and the High School P. T. A. take this opportunity to thank the ladies of the town for their support in the box supper by contributing the boxes and the business men for their co-operation in making this event a success.

Eleven 4-H boys clubs have been organized in Jones County, with a total membership of 186.

The clubs and their enrollment are as follows:

Stamford, eleven members; Anson, twenty members; Wise Chapel, twelve members; Neinda, fifteen members; Hawley, thirty-eight members; Noodle-Horn, eighteen members; Plainview, eleven members; Wilson, twelve members; Pleasant Hill, eighteen members; Avoca, nineteen members. Eight club boys have filled trench silos, to feed their beef calves next spring. Possibly others who have failed to report their trench silos.

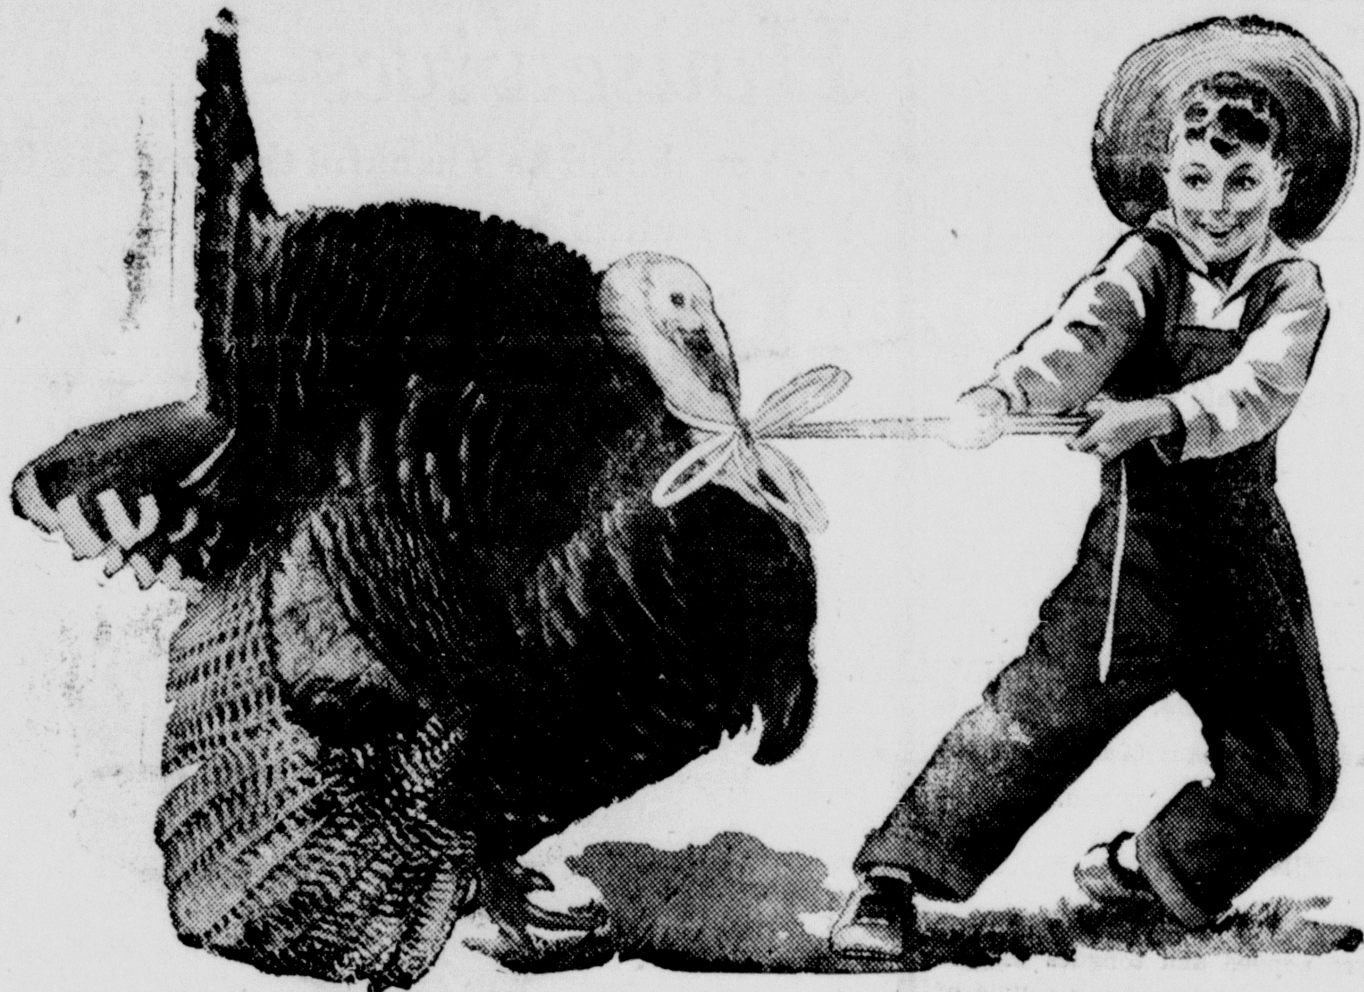

The following men belong to the Dairy Herd Improvement Association: W. D. Mickler, J. W. Chandler, J. A. McCuiston, T. K. Marshall, R. L. Bohannon, Otis Miller.

Clifford Swindle, milk tester of Taylor County, is in charge of this work. He visits the herds once each month, taking samples of each cow's milk, both night and morning and runs butter fat tests and weighs the milk. The owner is furnished with Dairy Herd Record Book, furnished by U. S. Dept. of Agriculture Bureau of Dairy Industry. This record will enable the owner to cull out the boarders and feed according to the value of his cows; he will also know from what cows he wants to keep calves, to improve his herd.

There will be an orchard meeting in the District Court Room, Anson, on Saturday, Nov. 27th, at 2:30. At this meeting, orchard sites, and varieties suitable for this section of the country will be discussed, as well as other orchard problems. Every one interested in orchard work is urged to attend this meeting.

W. L. Walton hit upon a good idea just before Thanksgiving—he not only provided himself with the Herald for another year, but took on the Dallas Morning News, and for his son, Wallace he gave him the Star Telegram and to two of his daughters, Mrs. Homer Massey, at Dallas and Mrs. Willie Bell Stovall, at Whittenburg, Texas, goes the Herald. After all, there is but one person greater than a kind father—a kind mother.

Some Pulls Often Lead To The Block

OLDEST ORIENT FOREMAN TALKED OLD TIMES

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Fannin and grandson, Windel Fannin of Odell, came down on Friday of last week for a visit with their son, Pearl Fannin and family.

This community and all along the Santa Fe and 14 miles east and west out of Pastura is Mr. Fannin's "old railroad" grounds. He has also operated out of McCaulley. His work started as a foreman of the "section" in Aug. 1908. But his first "Orient" work was two years earlier with the then "young and spruce" Walter L. Cash, as foreman. Both Cash and Fannin were adopted by the Santa Fe and are still keeping their sections of the lines fit for the iron horse.

Mr. and Mrs. Cash came up Saturday to spend a short time with the Fannins and to see old neighbors and look after their property.

These two old Orienters had a good time talking over the more than 30 years with the Orient and Santa Fe.

Another thing, these men have been subscribing for the Herald since it was born in Hamlin, 32 years ago.

Fannin said he helped bring the first Cash to the old First National Bank from the train and Cash and Fannin put lots of Cash through that bank as long as it lived.

THANKSGIVING IS WITH US AGAIN

Today in many localities, in thousands of homes, and in the valleys and plains of America, there is a cessation of business and in reality the populace is meditating in an humble spirit of Thanksgiving.

Hamlin people will be found slowing up in most business affairs, and then there will be the usual home-coming of loved ones for short visits and to eat the proverbial turkey with mother and father or maybe a sister or brother or a lot of kinspeople.

The Herald does not always have an opportunity to take the day off, but this time we are doing so. The reading matter this week is a day short and what local items that should be found in the columns this week will likely appear in due time, if they will keep.

There are a number of interesting ads appearing from our merchants, look over all of them and note what they say. The merchant keeps your home paper coming in Hamlin just as they do in Dallas or New York.

So here is hoping that all of our readers will take time to be thankful for the bounties this country has enjoyed this year 1937.

The following named attended the Fisher County Baptist Workers Conference at Roby: Pastor and Mrs. John P. Hardesty, Mmes W. F. Davison, Jack Johnson, Hallie McFatter, W. C. Johnson, J. M. Once again we approach that day of observance which America sets apart as one of thanksgiving to the Almighty Power whose blessings have enriched our town and state and nation during the year. To Him let us render our heartfelt gratitude for the blessings and opportunities of today and the hopes of to-morrow. On this Thanksgiving Day, let us all pause and give thanks for the things that are ours—for life, love, friends, prosperity, security.

The Box Supper, sponsored by the Lions Club and the P. T. A., Tuesday night brought back many a glad memory to the older folks and gave to the younger ones a new and pleasant experience. . . . Did a certain prominent druggist really intend to buy all the boxes he bid for or was he "caught in a trap?" . . . Why was a well known fire insurance man willing to pay $4.55 for a certain box? . . . Kurt Schoeman turned pioneer and took a yen for the "covered wagon" days. . . . What well-known young grocery man failed to bid on his wife's box? . . . First prize for the prettiest box was awarded to Joyce Hudson, whose box was a very clever representation of the "Mayflower" in blue and white. . . . Otto Berlin of Stamford was an enthusiastic bidder, but we understand that his chief interest was in "music boxes." . . . The keenest interest was created among the bidders of the high school and grade school crowds. . . . A domestic disturbance was caused in some families when the man "forgot" to buy his wife's box.

What prominent banker of our fair city decided that this is one winter when he's going to be jolly well warm and has been sleeping in ladies' balbriggan pajamas?

Who were the three popular high school belles of the sophomore class who very recently stormed the Ford Motor Co., trying to buy a fresh pineapple?

Eyes popped and tongues wagged when a well known young couple of the town, who have been "that way" for a long time, made a trip to Anson last Friday night to get a marriage license.

We wonder if Cudahay Poe and little Dick Low ever found the water melons Monday afternoon?

Along the Drag: The Witt Jewelry window this week displays new styles in watches, rings and lockets; especially featured is new costume jewelry and the Harker Oven Ware. The Rose Shoppe is showing cute hat and scarf sets and attractive winter dresses in popular colors. . . . In the window of Waggoner Drug, we notice a very pretty and tempting display of California fruits and candy.

In a recent scavenger hunt, a certain young business man was in such a "blond daze" that he even failed to notice that someone had stolen or borrowed the articles that he left in his car. (For the particulars of the case, we refer you to a local dry goods store manager.)

Since yea knows when, people have talked of red flannels, have laughed about them, and have joked about them. But have you ever really seen a pair of red flannels? We have never seen a pair, nor have we been able to find anyone else who has. Now, here's a tip! If you have a pair of red flannels in an old trunk stuck back in the darkest corner of the attic, just drag 'em out and charge a nickel a look—it's a swell way to make some extra Christmas money. (Better still, try renting them to people on a "scavenger hunt.")

EXTRA—Mouse starves to death in Hamlin's most popular boarding house. A poor, starving mouse came struggling into the lobby of the boarding house, made a few circles and "plopped" over dead. Was it from starvation or—?

What two young ladies who are employed in a popular corner store recently learned through a sad experience that boxes containing car batteries should not be turned upside down in the process of opening.

The community Thanksgiving service at the Baptist church last Sunday evening was well attended. The little folks appearing on the program acquitted themselves in a fine way. "It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord."

Christmas Flower

WHEN you buy one of those scarlet-petaled flowers called the poinsettia to add to the festive appearance of your home at Christmas time, you are helping perpetuate the fame of an American who little realized that his name would become associated with one of the symbols of the Yuletide. For Joel R. Poinsett had so many other claims to distinction that it seems curious he is best remembered because a flower bears his name!

Born in South Carolina in 1779, he studied both medicine and military science abroad but his father induced him to abandon his intention of entering the army and to become a student of law. Poor health forced him to give that up and he asked President Madison for a commission in the army. He was about to be appointed quartermaster-general when the secretary of war objected.

Instead he was sent on a diplomatic mission to South America where he mixed in the politics of Chile, and fomented revolution until he became known as "the scourge of the American continent" and was recalled. Next he was sent to Mexico. Always interested in botany, he brought back from that country the flower which was given the scientific name of "Poinsettia Pulcherrima."

Just as he had been a stormy petrel in international politics, so he was a disturbing element in the politics of his native land. During the Nullification controversy in South Carolina he organized and led the Unionist forces. By doing that he won the esteem of the national government and President Van Buren made him secretary of war.

Poinsett improved and enlarged the army, organized a general staff, built up the artillery, directed the Seminole war and managed the removal of some 40,000 Indians to Indian Territory. In the midst of this activity his scientific interests were not neglected. He experimented with scientific agriculture, sent out the Wilkes expedition into the Antarctic and was largely instrumental in founding the National Institute for the Promotion of Science and the Useful Arts which later was merged with the Smithsonian Institution. His busy career came to an end in 1851 while he was living in retirement as a plantation owner in his native state.

Curiosa Americana

Admiral-General

SAMUEL POWHATAN CARTER of Tennessee was the only man in American history who ever held both the rank of rear-admiral in the United States navy and brigadier-general in the United States army. Appointed a midshipman in 1840, he rose to the grade of lieutenant in the navy in 1855.

At the outbreak of the Civil war he was temporarily transferred to the War department to organize troops in his native state. First appointed colonel of the Second Tennessee Volunteers, he was commissioned a brigadier-general in 1862, brevetted a major-general in 1865 and mustered out of the army in 1866.

Returning to the navy and having by this time been promoted to the rank of commander, he became a captain in 1870, a commodore in 1878 and in 1881 he was placed on the retired list with the rank of rear admiral. "Admiral-General" Carter died in Washington in 1891.

Another Civil war army officer who had also served in the navy was Brevet Maj. Gen. William Nelson who had been appointed a midshipman the same year that Carter had and had risen to the rank of lieutenant-commander when he was transferred to the army. However, he never had an opportunity to become an admiral, for he was killed in an affray in Louisville, Ky., by Brig. Gen. Jefferson C. Davis on September 29, 1862.

The nearest parallel to Carter's case is that of Admiral Raphael Semmes, commander of the famous Confederate warship, the Alabama. After the destruction of his ship by the Kearsarge, Semmes was commissioned a brigadier-general by President Jefferson Davis of the Confederacy and placed in command of some batteries at Danville, Va., during the last week of the war.

IN 1932 newspaper dispatches recorded the death at Santa Ana, Calif., of "the first woman who ever flew an airplane." She was Dr. Jessica Ralche, fifty-eight years old, who in 1910 at the flying field at Mineola, N. Y., where many of the first flights were made in this country, flew an old pusher type ship.

However, Doctor Ralche wasn't the first of her sex to pilot a "flying machine." The woman who did that is still living. She is Mrs. Henry Breckinridge of New York, wife of the Kentucky lawyer and statesman who was assistant secretary of war under President Wilson and later attorney and adviser to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Bronchial Coughs Need Creomulsion

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to aid nature in soothing and healing infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation and by aiding in loosening and expelling the germ-laden phlegm.

The Medical Profession has for many years recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Creosote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist, for blending Creosote with other ingredients and now in Creomulsion you get a real dose of genuine Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and can even be taken frequently and continuously by both adults and children.

Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. When coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—hang on, get a bottle of Creomulsion from your druggist, use it as directed, and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the druggist is authorized to refund every cent of your money. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief that you want. Adv

(By TRESSIE BROWN)

U-m-m, we're having nice snowy weather now, and we country people grabbing any piece of fire that will give warmth?

Misses Lou and Tressie Brown spent the week-end with Misses Dot, Viola, and Jerry Green in Swedonia. Saturday night they attended a party at Miller's.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Greenway and sons of Roby spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Greenway.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brown and little daughter spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn Higdon and family in the Round Top community.

Miss Grace Johnson spent the week end with Miss Obara Rush of Neinda. They full-filled a party, Saturday night and a nice crowd made a "Merry-tryout."

We are sorry to hear Mr. Audry Tindal is suffering from severe injuries of the head and a broken arm, caused from a fall from a load of cotton. We sincerely hope he will soon be up and out soon.

Odis Brown, of De Leon visited relatives in and around Plasterco this past week-end.

Rev. Gray, who has accepted the place as our pastor of the Neinda Baptist church held a week-end service this past week. It sure was a help to the Neinda people as they have been without a pastor for several months and his sermons reached to the depth of our hearts and renewed our interest in our work for our great Redeemer, who guides us on through trials and temptations.

We were pleasingly suprised with an unusually large crowd at the singing at Boyds Chapel, Sunday afternoon. The singing is improving wonderfully. Help us keep it up and try to attend regularly.

Thanks to Electric Servants

Thanksgiving is now a Woman's Holiday too!

If our service to you during this last year has been instrumental in providing more leisure, more pleasure, and greater happiness, then this Thanksgiving Day is occasion for us to give sincere thanks. Like many of you, we have "grown up" right here in West Texas. This is our twenty-sixth Thanksgiving. So we can remember when the turkey season meant a holiday for every one except Mother. The Thanksgiving dinner was a long, tedious task for her... many hours in the kitchen before a hot, odorous stove. And there were scads of dishes to wash when it was over. This burden on her is no longer necessary, we're happy to recall. The trend toward the all-electric kitchen means complete emancipation for women. Out of this freedom is born the Neoelectress—a modern home maker alert to this new electric age. The vista of a more glamorous future than pots and pans has become a reality, whether it be Thanksgiving or just another day. If you have not yet electrified your kitchen, we suggest that you investigate the economy of Electric Servants ere another holiday rolls around. They have made Thanksgiving a vastly happier day for many of your neighbors... and we are glad!

KNOW TEXAS

By F. L. McDONALD, T. S. C. W. NEWS BUREAU, DENTON

FAILURES FALLING

DENTON, Nov. 26.—Back in '31 and '32 hopes fell as Texas business failures mounted to almost a thousand each year. Still farther back, in 1921, the disheartening tabulation had reached between 100 and 200 a month. But in 1936, despite pessimistic predictions and morose calculations, the figures show that there was the lowest average of failures on record in this state. With a total of 178 for the year, the monthly average was less than fifteen.

HISTORY THROUGH TITLES

Among the titles of early newspapers can be found an indirect history of Texas. First comes "El Mexicano" in 1813 at Nacogdoches, and after several other papers with a Mexican touch "The Constitutional Advocate and Public Advertiser" was issued in Brazoria in 1833. "Advocate of the People's Rights" was another step up and, in 1834 the "Texas Republican" appeared.

Another Brazoria paper, "The Single Star," reflects the period of statehood, and in 1839 one finds the annexation problem mirrored in the title, "National Intelligencer," a Houston paper. A still later publication, begun in Austin in 1846, looks to the future as the "New Era."

Mrs. EARL BROWN, Correspondent

Believe me, winter has certainly come in with a bang—at last. We have had a week of extremely cold weather, but have had only a light snow, which fell on Monday morning. The health of our community is very good at present, with the exception of a few colds.

L. P. and Earnest Cozzen of Lamesa spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Cozzen.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Kemp spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Short of Buffalo Gap.

Mr. and Mrs. Theron Bingham and children of Wise Chapel spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Bingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Judge Crow and daughter, Edna Maude, spent last week-end visiting relatives in Johnson County—and peacan hunting.

Mrs. Vaden Lester and children are spending a few weeks with her grandmother, Mrs. Dupuy, in O'Brien.

Singing was enjoyed by a large crowd at the home of L. F. Cozzen on last Wednesday evening. If you don't believe we have good singings in the homes, every second and fourth Wednesday evenings, you just come to Mr. L. F. Woods on next Wednesday evening and find out.

The B. Y. P. U. was well attended on Sunday evening. The contest they have started seems to have done much good already, as Marshal Haight, Captain for group one, received nine new members last week.

Those who spent Sunday with Earl Brown and family were: Mr. and Mrs. W. S. King, of Anson, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Green of Sinclair and Mr. and Mrs. Gaddis Rich, of Wise Chapel.

Miss Polly Kelly spent last week with relatives in Sylvester.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Hancock was completely destroyed by fire, about 8:00 o'clock Saturday. They were attending the party in the home of L. F. Cozzen when someone noticed the fire. All the men and boys rushed to the home, but were too late to save anything. Mr. Hancock says the fire must have started from the flue of the heater.

The cellar of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Tindal was also destroyed by fire, on Sunday. Sam poured some ashes on it and says there must have been some fire in them. All their canned fruit and vegetables were destroyed.

Jr., of Crowley and Miss Dorothy Murphy of Fort Worth spent last week-end visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith.

"The Store Ahead"

THE REST OF THE RECORD

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN—In issuing the annual Thanksgiving Day proclamation, I did so this year with the feeling that a little white-haired old lady of some seventy years had really written it.

Out of the heavy mail on my desk, I found last week a penciled letter with the writing shaken by the palsied hand of age. Its message typified the real spirit of the Pilgrim Mother of 1621 when the first day of Thanksgiving in America was observed. I felt humble in the presence of that letter for in it I could see the reason why this State of Texas has become so great. Back of it, I could see the pioneer mothers whose love and faith gave the steel to the courage of their men that enabled them to overcome hardships and build the mighty empire of Texas.

The dear old lady wrote that she only wanted to express appreciation for her monthly pension check. She added "while some people might think my room too bare and poorly furnished for comfort still to me it is home and for the pension check which makes this possible, I am thankful. My children are all gone and I would be lonely except for the memories of a long life which God has blessed with many friends and much happiness. To Him I shall give thanks on this Thanksgiving Day."

What a lesson to those of us more fortunate! From that letter I gained a feeling of humility, grateful that she should write me at this time.

I don't know how other governors feel about the penciled, often poorly written letters which we receive, but to me these are just as important if not more so, than the neatly typed, embossed letters from lawyers and bankers. These letters are from poor people who travel on a three-cent postage stamp to ask the governor of their state for help or advice. The least a governor can do is to read them and help in every way possible.

In many instances the letters are written in Czech or Spanish, or German and often illegible. These I have translated and returned to me promptly.

Yes, we have much for which to be thankful on this Thanksgiving Day. In contrast to war-torn and war-fearing countries, America will observe its day of Thanksgiving in security and peace confident that our ideals of democracy, the industry of our people, and the vast resources of our nation will enable these United States to meet crises under which other nations might crumble.

As Governor, I feel grateful to the kind Providence that has guided this state and nation out of the depths of depression into an era of comparative prosperity. True there are many families whose tables will be pitifully bare on this Thanksgiving Day unless charitable organizations and kindly neighbors help them. But the bread lines which have threaded the nation in past years will not be as long nor will the suffering be as great—thanks to the humanitarian program of the President.

In our state there are still too many unfortunates for whom aid has been denied or for whom the aid given has not been sufficient to relieve their pain and need. Many aged, needy, destitute children, helpless blind, and unemployables on the relief rolls will face a cheerless Thanksgiving Day.

As we who are more fortunate share the bounties of Thanksgiving dinner, let us remember that the obligation to our unfortunate neighbors has not been filled by partial payment. Let us remember the happiness and comfort brought to the old lady by the pension check and whose brave attitude so typifies the real Thanksgiving Day spirit. Let us resolve that others like her but who are not being aided shall receive help.

There can be no turning back or any detour made from the humanitarian highway that we have traveled as an aftermath of the depression.

Charlie Branton, salesman for the Williams Chevrolet Co., was awarded fifty dollars in a car selling contest which was conducted by the Dallas office during the first ten days of November.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

(FROM CONGRESSMAN
CLYDE L. GARRETT)

BACK IN WASHINGTON—Now that Congress has reconvened for the Special Session, I will continue to present to my Constituents the weekly picture of current events as viewed from the National Capital. In these stirring times national news is of greater significance than it has been since the World War, and through the courtesy of this newspaper I shall endeavor to chronicle happenings in the Legislative, Executive and Judiciary branches of the Government of special interest to our District. Comments and suggestions by readers will be appreciated.

BUSINESS HELPED — President Roosevelt has been devoting his time to aiding the worker and farmer. Now he is starting his work to aid the business man. He met with a group of outstanding business leaders to try and start a program that will stimulate construction by private enterprise of housing units for sale and rent at low costs.

EXPENDITURES CUT—A speech made by Secretary Morgenthau was interpreted as meaning that the Government will start economizing instead of spending. He promised the Federal budget would be balanced and that there would be no extra taxes. He warned, however, that if the budget was to be balanced there would have to be cuts in money spent for public works, unemployment relief, public highways, and agriculture.

FARM BILL—Committees were not ready with the draft of the farm bill and for this reason, it is likely that government reorganization will be taken up first at the special session. The farm bill was scheduled to be first. The Committee has removed several provisions in the revised draft and has made several changes.

REORGANIZATION [BILLS]—There are two bills dealing with governmental reorganization. One of them authorizes six secretarial assistants for the President and the other carries out part of the plan to reorganize Federal agencies. These have passed the House but it is uncertain whether the full program recommended by Mr. Roosevelt will be enacted.

CORRECTION—On Thursday, Nov. 11 in a release to the papers there was a mistake in a great number of the papers. Just who was responsible I do not know, but this is intended as a correction. I made the statement that I was in favor of the abolition and consolidation of a great number of the boards and bureaus, etc. but was not in favor of surrendering more of the rights of Congress. The "NOT" was omitted in many of the papers. Please bear this in mind and re-read the article if convenient.

HOUSING—There is a shortage in this country of low-cost dwellings. There is also a great deal of private capital waiting for safe investment that will bring fair returns. If guaranteed by the Government, this capital would be brought out on an interest basis that would be sufficiently low to bring about 4½ percent loans. It is generally believed that Congress will approve a plan of the Administration to encourage creation of mortgage corporations, which would be government guaranteed and would be sold to the public on a 3½ percent interest basis. In return the Corporations would, at 4½ percent interest lend money to individuals who wish to build homes.

ANTI-TRUST LAWS—Because Mr. Roosevelt said that delays of legal procedures and interpretations by the Courts of the Anti-trust laws have made them less effective, and because identical bidding on Government contracts are proving a problem, it is likely that the anti-trust laws will be revised. Mr. Roosevelt has made clear his desire to have these laws taken up at the special session.

ANTI-LYNCHING MEASURE—Although the anti-lynching bill has passed the House, it is held up in the Senate and is believed will cause a major debate at the special session. A filibuster has been threatened which would block other desired legislation.

FEDERAL HOUSING—To expedite the Federal Housing Administration's rental housing operations, new regulations tending to simplify procedure and expand mortgage insurance facilities were announced. The new regulation should make a wider and more diverse appeal to equity investors without sacrifice of the control features established for the protection of mortgagees. An important feature of the new regulations is the provision for insuring mortgages covering projects composed of single family houses which permit partial release from the blanket mortgage as separate properties are sold.

Don't put up with useless PAIN
Get rid of it

When functional pains of menstruation are severe, take CARDUI. If it doesn't benefit you, consult a physician. Don't neglect such pains. They depress the tone of the nerves, cause sleeplessness, loss of appetite, wear out your resistance. Get a bottle of Cardui and see whether it will help you, as thousands of women have said it helped them. Besides easing certain pains, Cardui aids in building up the whole system by helping women to get more strength from their food.
